PROPOSED ORDINANCE

COOK COUNTY ANIMAL ABUSER REGISTRY

WHEREAS, the State of Illinois and the County of Cook have criminalized abuse and cruelty towards animals; and

WHEREAS, despite these laws against animal cruelty and abuse, animal cruelty continues to be a problem in Illinois and Cook County; and

WHEREAS, the number of cruelty cases reported daily on various media sources is not reflective of the actual number of cases, as most cases are never reported, and most animal suffering goes unrecognized and unabated; and

WHEREAS, further complicating this issue is the fact that, unlike violent crimes against people, information on reported cases of animal abuse have not been compiled by state and federal agencies, making it difficult to calculate the prevalence or trends in these crimes; and

WHEREAS, intentional cruelty to animals is strongly correlated with other crimes, including violence against people, and data on domestic violence and child abuse cases reveal that a staggering number of animals are victimized by abusive parents or partners each year; and

WHEREAS, in light of the above-mentioned link between animal abuse and crimes against people, including violent crimes and domestic violence, after a years-long lobbying effort and the backing of the National Sheriffs Association and the Animal Welfare Institute, in 2014, the FBI agreed to elevate animal cruelty to its own separate offense category defined as “Intentionally, knowingly, or recklessly taking an action that mistreats or kills any animal without just cause, such as torturing, tormenting, mutilation, maiming, poisoning, or abandonment.”; and

WHEREAS, 2016 marks the first time the FBI will collect data on animal crimes the way it does for other serious crimes such as homicide or rape by having their own organized category within the National Incident-Based Reporting System (NIBRS), the FBI's public collection of national crime statistics; and

WHEREAS, the goal is that after several years of collecting statistics other law enforcement agencies will be able to see trends that will allow them to better allocate their resources to catching animal abusers and in the process hopefully better protect both animals and people; and

WHEREAS, it is in the best interest of the residents of Cook County and their animals that an online registry be established identifying individuals residing in Cook County convicted of animal abuse crimes that will prevent these individuals from adopting, purchasing, or otherwise obtaining animals from any animal shelter, pet seller, or other person or entity involved in the exchange of animals by adoption, sale, or other means.
