Summary: On 7/25/2016, the Circuit Court of Cook County Office of the Chief Judge entered a Collective Bargaining Agreement with Teamster's Local 700. A provision within the agreement required the Juvenile Temporary Detention Center to provide bullet-proof ballistic vest to security specialist who transport residents to various locations (e.g. - court and hospital) throughout Cook County and the State of Illinois. The new bullet-proof armor provides additional protection in response to elevated safety and security concerns in the Chicago area.

Summary: A provision within the Collective Bargaining Agreement with Teamster's Local 700 requires the Juvenile Temporary Detention Center to provide bullet-proof ballistic vests to security specialists who transport residents to various locations (e.g. - court and hospital) throughout Cook County and the State of Illinois. Due to safety concerns, the JTDC purchased the vests on an expedited basis and at a cost which slightly exceeded expectations.
