

Board of Commissioners of Cook County

118 North Clark Street
Chicago, IL

Legislation Details (With Text)

---

File #:	19-1959	Version:	1	Name:	HONORING DR. LYN HUGHES, FOUNDER OF THE NATIONAL A. PHILIP RANDOLPH PULLMAN PORTER MUSEUM
Type:	Consent Calendar Resolution	Status:			Approved
File created:	2/19/2019	In control:			Board of Commissioners
On agenda:	2/20/2019	Final action:			2/20/2019
Title:	PROPOSED RESOLUTION

Honoring Dr. Lyn Hughes, Founder of the National A. Philip Randolph Pullman Porter Museum

WHEREAS, Dr. Lyn Hughes, a former international entertainer - now an activist and scholar - moved to Chicago in the late 1980s; and

WHEREAS, in 1990, she began speculating real estate on Chicago's south side and discovered the Pullman historic district; and

WHEREAS, after discovering an important slice of African American history, in 1995 Dr. Hughes founded The National A. Philip Randolph Pullman Porter Museum (NAPRPPM), a public museum located in the National Park Service-Pullman National Monument on the south side of Chicago; and

WHEREAS, not only is the museum about history, it's founding also made history by being founded by an African American female with predominantly private funds, and to this day operates on an entrepreneurial model; and

WHEREAS, NAPRPPM is the first Black Labor History Museum in the United States that exclusively tells the story of A. Philip Randolph, a New York magazine publisher, turned union organizer and civil rights leader, who after organizing the Pullman Porters in 1925, became founder of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters; and

WHEREAS, the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters was the first African American labor union in America to be chartered under the American Federation of Labor, and the first to win a collective bargaining agreement with a major U.S corporation, the Pullman Company; and

WHEREAS, the museum presents and interprets content intended to educate the public on the impact the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters union had on organized labor and on America's modern day civil rights movement; and

WHEREAS, the registry garnered the interest of Amtrak, who partnered with the National A. Philip Randolph Pullman Porter Museum and developed a national program using the registry to locate, acknowledge and honor surviving members of the union, in ceremonies nationwide; and

WHEREAS, Dr. Hughes's dedication and efforts to illuminate the museum's existence and its thematic content has resulted in global recognition in the tourism industry, for its unique interpretation of this significant component of American history; and

WHEREAS, the museum attracted the attention of the SHOWTIME network and inspired the creation of the 2003 docudrama, 10,000 Black Men Named George, yielding an interest in history, of an entirely new generation; and

WHEREAS, the interest in the history Hughes excavated continued, and garnered the attention of ABC's Good Morning America, who was prompted to bring their crew to Chicago to the boutique museum and film a segment on the Pullman Porters; and

WHEREAS, in 2014, Dr. Jon Jarvis, then, director of the National Park Service also made his way to Chicago to see the museum and meet Dr. Lyn Hughes; and

WHEREAS, in February 2015, President Barack Obama designated the historic Pullman District a national monument; and

WHEREAS, the museum has now made history again by becoming a historical black history site in Chicago's national park service; and

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the President and the Cook County Board of Commissioners, on behalf of the residents of Cook County, honor Dr. Lyn Hughes, founder of the National A. Philip Randolph Pullman Porter Museum and praise her essential contribution to the health and viability of Cook County...end

Sponsors: TONI PRECKWINKLE (President)

Indexes:

Code sections:

Attachments:

Date	Ver.	Action By	Action	Result
2/20/2019	1	Board of Commissioners	approve	Pass

PROPOSED RESOLUTION

HONORING DR. LYN HUGHES, FOUNDER OF THE NATIONAL A. PHILIP RANDOLPH PULLMAN PORTER MUSEUM

WHEREAS, Dr. Lyn Hughes, a former international entertainer - now an activist and scholar - moved to Chicago in the late 1980s; and

WHEREAS, in 1990, she began speculating real estate on Chicago's south side and discovered the Pullman historic district; and\

WHEREAS, after discovering an important slice of African American history, in 1995 Dr. Hughes founded The National A. Philip Randolph Pullman Porter Museum (NAPRPPM), a public museum located in the National Park Service-Pullman National Monument on the south side of Chicago; and

WHEREAS, not only is the museum about history, it's founding also made history by being founded by an African American female with predominantly private funds, and to this day operates on an entrepreneurial model; and

WHEREAS, NAPRPPM is the first Black Labor History Museum in the United States that exclusively tells the story of A. Philip Randolph, a New York magazine publisher, turned union organizer and civil rights leader, who after organizing the Pullman Porters in 1925, became founder of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters; and

WHEREAS, the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters was the first African American labor union in America to be chartered under the American Federation of Labor, and the first to win a collective bargaining agreement with a major U.S corporation, the Pullman Company; and

WHEREAS, the museum presents and interprets content intended to educate the public on the impact the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters union had on organized labor and on America's modern day civil rights movement; and

WHEREAS, the registry garnered the interest of Amtrak, who partnered with the National A. Philip Randolph Pullman Porter Museum and developed a national program using the registry to locate, acknowledge and honor surviving members of the union, in ceremonies nationwide; and

WHEREAS, Dr. Hughes's dedication and efforts to illuminate the museum's existence and its thematic content has resulted in global recognition in the tourism industry, for its unique interpretation of this significant component of American history; and

WHEREAS, the museum attracted the attention of the SHOWTIME network and inspired the creation of the 2003 docudrama, 10,000 Black Men Named George, yielding an interest in history, of an entirely new generation; and

WHEREAS, the interest in the history Hughes excavated continued, and garnered the attention of ABC's Good Morning America, who was prompted to bring their crew to Chicago to the boutique museum and film a segment on the Pullman Porters; and

WHEREAS, in 2014, Dr. Jon Jarvis, then, director of the National Park Service also made his way to Chicago to see the museum and meet Dr. Lyn Hughes; and

WHEREAS, in February 2015, President Barack Obama designated the historic Pullman District a national monument; and

WHEREAS, the museum has now made history again by becoming a historical black history site in Chicago's national park service; and

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the President and the Cook County Board of Commissioners, on behalf of the residents of Cook County, honor Dr. Lyn Hughes, founder of the National A. Philip Randolph Pullman Porter Museum and praise her essential contribution to the health and viability of Cook County.